

MYCo project wrap-up

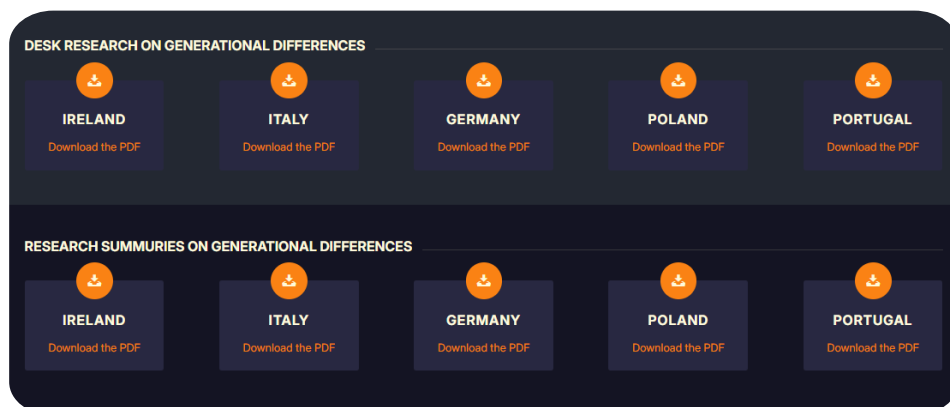

The MYCo – Meet Your Colleague project is slowly coming to an end! Over the past months, project partners from five European countries have worked on developing tools and resources to support generational diversity and encourage better cooperation between colleagues of different ages.

Discover the MYCo Results!

Throughout the project, partners have developed four key results:

Transnational Report on Generational Diversity

What do different generations really think about working together? Based on the experiences of 150 workers from five European countries, the report explores generational differences, challenges and everyday workplace experiences.

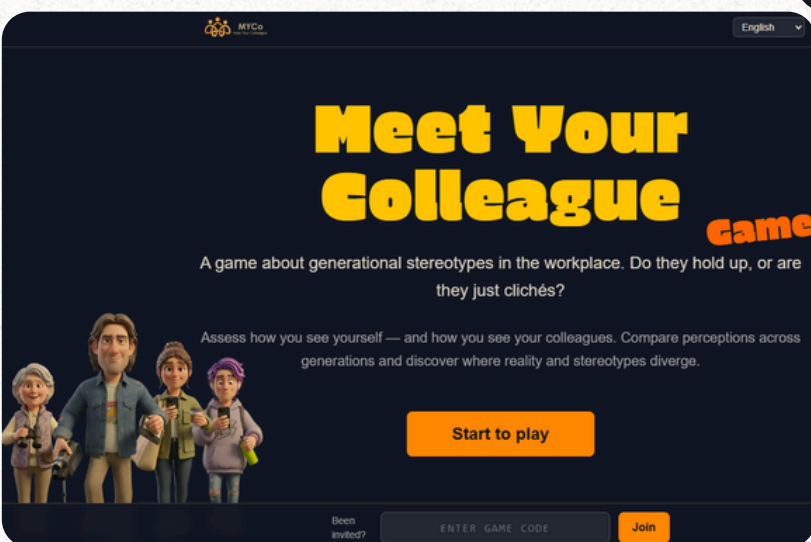

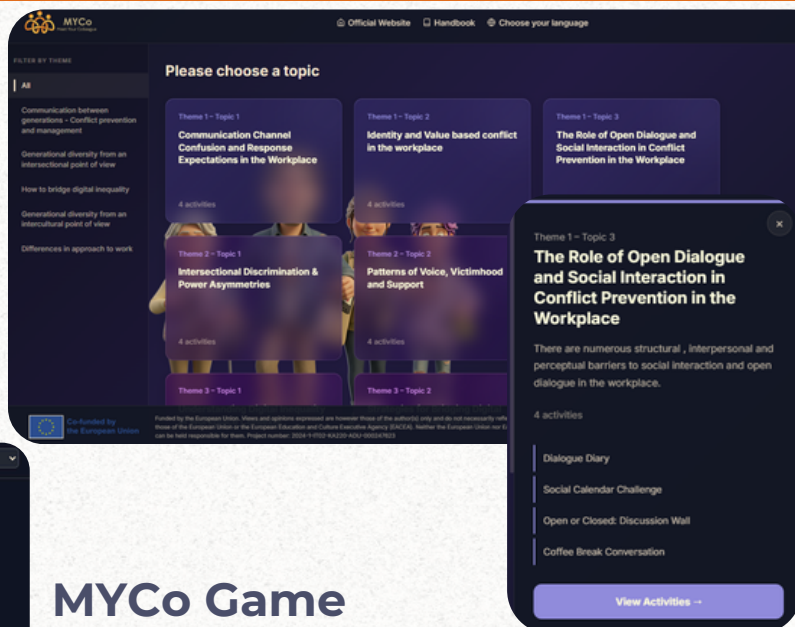

MYCo Handbook on Generational Inclusion and Diversity

A practical guide to understanding generational differences in the workplace. It explores common stereotypes, communication styles and challenges faced by different generations, offering useful tips, real-life examples and ideas for creating a more inclusive and supportive working environment.

Activities for Inclusion Workshops

60 interactive activities that encourage discussion, challenge stereotypes and help colleagues of different ages understand each other better.

MYCo Game

A fun and interactive way to look beyond generational labels, break down stereotypes and discover what colleagues have in common.

Final TPM in Rzeszów

On 5–6 October, the MYCo partners will meet in Rzeszów, Poland, for the final, fourth TPM.

The meeting will be an opportunity to review the project's achievements, discuss the final activities and, most importantly, focus on the sustainability of MYCo results.
